

INCLUSION MOMENT

Addressing Inequality, Equity,
Equality, and Justice in Malaysia

Inequality, Equity, Equality, and Justice in Malaysia

- Inequality – Unequal access to resources, opportunities, and representation across race, gender, and socioeconomic groups.
- Equity – Providing fair access by addressing historical and systemic disadvantages
- Equality – Ensuring that all individuals receive the same treatment, regardless of background.
- Justice – Eliminating barriers that cause inequality, ensuring a sustainable and fair society.

Real-World Applications in Malaysia

- Education – Scholarships and quotas for underprivileged students to bridge opportunity gaps.
- Workforce – Encouraging diversity in hiring and leadership across ethnic groups and genders.
- Infrastructure – Ensuring accessibility in public transport and facilities for people with disabilities.
- Legal System– Strengthening anti-discrimination policies and labor protections.

Moving Towards Justice & Inclusion

- Support policies that promote equitable access to education and employment.
- Raise awareness about systemic inequality and advocate for fair representation.
- Strengthen corporate social responsibility (CSR) initiatives to uplift marginalized communities.
- Ensure accessibility for all Malaysians, regardless of gender, race, or ability.
